

IS THIS YOU?

- Age 14-19, grades 9-12, or taking a gap year before college
- Bookworm, avid reader
- Open-minded, willingness to learn
- Respectful of all people
- Interested in amplifying youth voices, particularly youth living in poverty
- Committed to BreakBread's vision of inclusion and social justice through art and writing

CONSIDER BECOMING A LITERARY APPRENTICE!

BreakBread is dedicated to cultivating creatives under the age of 25.

We provide a place where young people's creative work can take root and grow, introducing youth to the world of literature and publishing as a means of self-expression and vocational development. Our program seeks to develop young creatives—especially those who lack access to traditional publishing internships and writing opportunities—into pre-professional, college-ready editors, writers, and team members.

BreakBread

LITERARY APPRENTICE
PROGRAM

BreakBread provides a community where young creatives' work can take root and grow through four initiatives:

BreakBread Magazine

BreakBread Reading Series

BreakBread Creative Classroom

BreakBread Literary Apprenticeship Program

YOUR ROLE AS A LITERARY APPRENTICE:

- Read and select work for publication
- Participate in team meetings
- Attend genre and production meetings
- Identify new talent and recruit submissions
- Compose personalized rejection letters and offer feedback on submissions

Hands-On Experience

Develop Your Voice as a Writer

Supportive Staff

Meet and Greet Visiting Writers

Join a Community of Professional Writers

Earn School Credit (if eligible)

Earn References for Work and College

BreakBread Literary Magazine could not achieve our mission to amplify the voices of young creatives without young creatives' input in the work we do.

TIME COMMITMENT

Reading Submissions:
2-3 hours per week

Bi-annual production,
weekly meetings:
3-4 hours per week

TECHNOLOGY

Our meetings are held over video conferencing so all staff can join across several time zones. For this reason, computer, internet, and webcam access are necessary. If you need help with internet or technology access, let us know. Please do not let this deter you from applying; we will help you figure it out!
